

STARS & SOCIETY

STARS OF DAVID

BY MICHAEL ELKIN

The doctor will see you now — or is that be seen? Dr. Sherri Edelman of Triune Wellness of Old City had a great “Today” the other day. She guested on the top ayem NBC show, talking about her special field in a discussion hosted by Natalie Morales. The topic? Anger management. Hey, ya gotta problem with that? ... Number one? Isdamer & Company, LLC, CPAs, has won a Practice Innovation Award from Practicing Accountant. The internal memo circulating is that it was for internal marketing. Wait — there's more!

DR. SHERRI EDELMAN

Get the calculator out and add another honor: The Bala Cynwyd company took home the Association for Accounting Marketing Achievement Award, too, also for its internal marketing plan. Now that the internal program is out in the open, “Stars” can refer to it as a certified public accounting honor. ... Hark! It's Ned Hark! The much honored attorney at Howard M. Goldsmith, P.C., has been voted chair-elect of the family-law section of the Pennsylvania Bar Association during the group's section meeting in Toronto. ... Harvey M. Spector, D.O., is the 96th prexy of the Pennsylvania Osteopathic Medical Association. The Huntingdon Valley doc was installed in coronations held in King of Prussia. By the way Harvey as long as you're here, maybe some free medical advice? You see, “Stars” has this obsessive drive to bold-face names of superachievers. ... Goin' to the chapel: Philly's Jack Robinson is quite a hit with the Chapel of the Four Chaplains, who just honored him for his work with the Shriners Hospital for Children, among other good deeds, with its Legion of Honor Award. ... Miss Music? Emily Fox, 17, wouldn't miss a beat to help out. The teen founder of “Heart and Soul: Uniting Youth Through Music,” notable for gathering instruments and earmarking them for underprivileged children in West Philly, was recently feted by Edie Huggins on an NBC10 broadcast. Violin strings for this great kid?

... Hark! It's Ned Hark! The much honored attorney at Howard M. Goldsmith, P.C., has been voted chair-elect of the family-law section of the Pennsylvania Bar Association during the group's section meeting in Toronto. ... Harvey M. Spector, D.O., is the 96th prexy of the Pennsylvania Osteopathic Medical Association. The Huntingdon Valley doc was installed in coronations held in King of Prussia. By the way Harvey as long as you're here, maybe some free medical advice? You see, “Stars” has this obsessive drive to bold-face names of superachievers. ... Goin' to the chapel: Philly's Jack Robinson is quite a hit with the Chapel of the Four Chaplains, who just honored him for his work with the Shriners Hospital for Children, among other good deeds, with its Legion of Honor Award. ... Miss Music? Emily Fox, 17, wouldn't miss a beat to help out. The teen founder of “Heart and Soul: Uniting Youth Through Music,” notable for gathering instruments and earmarking them for underprivileged children in West Philly, was recently feted by Edie Huggins on an NBC10 broadcast. Violin strings for this great kid?

Entree Into an Entrepreneur's Success Story

He could have gone anywhere ... Gary Erlbaum, entrepreneur whose many successful businesses as founder/co-founder include David's Bridal, Panelrama — which he started while a student at Temple U. — and Greentree Properties Corp., which he heads, returns to his alma mater (where he earned both B.A. and J.D. degrees) to speak at the summer graduation ceremonies of the Temple Fox School of Business. The active Jewish communal leader is also the exec veepee of the Jewish Publishing Group.

